

InPharmation

*The official publication of the Pharmacy Department
Volume 3, Issue 6*

Meet the Residents

Rosanna Dastoori

Rosanna is a pharmacy resident originally from Southern California. She recently graduated from Xavier University in New Orleans, Louisiana and is interested in internal medicine. Rose moved to New Orleans with her parents and her one older brother during 2010, along with her dog Tyce (a mixed-breed miniature pinscher-chihuahua). When Rose is not at OLOL there is a high probability that she is either hanging out with her roommates by the pool or laying on the couch. Rose's other hobbies include attending music festivals, spending time at the beach, salsa dancing, cooking and eating all forms of pasta, and watching Big Brother. Two things she can never leave the house without include her cell phone and an Ensure protein drink.

Emily Johnston

Emily is a pharmacy resident from New Orleans, Louisiana where she earned her doctorate of pharmacy at Xavier University. She has a younger sister, an older step-sister and two older step-brothers. She also has two awesome dogs and a cat. When Emily is not at OLOL she enjoys spending quality time with her roommates with whom she watches reality television (which is also her guilty pleasure). Emily likes to spend much of her spare time cooking for her roommates. Emily's apartment holds many culturally-diverse pieces of décor, and her ideal vacation involves travelling to England and Greece. Emily's ultimate dream job is to become a critical care pharmacy specialist.

Donyika Joseph

Donyika is a pharmacy resident from New Orleans, Louisiana. She is a recent graduate from Xavier University and an alumni of Louisiana State University. Donyika is an only child but considers her dog, Pedro, as a brother. In her spare time, she enjoys running, trying new workout classes and attending concerts whenever possible. Becoming a licensed pharmacist has always been Donyika's dream job because of her passion for providing care to those needing it most. She hopes to use her skills and knowledge to make a difference, despite any obstacles or barriers that she encounters in the process. She makes an annual list of ten things she would like to try, and she will try almost anything once because of her belief that taking risks is an important way to learn life lessons.

Joey LeBert

Joey is a pharmacy resident from Hayes, Louisiana who joined OLOL with hopes of pursuing a career involving infectious disease management and academia. He is an alumni of McNeese State University in Lake Charles, Louisiana and graduated pharmacy school from the University of Louisiana at Monroe in 2015. His biggest passion in life is to provoke conversations and take actions needed to promote antimicrobial stewardship and prevent a post-antibiotic era. Joey values his time spent with family, of which he is the middle child with one older sister and one younger brother. Joey is an uncle to his two nieces and one nephew, and he enjoys spending time outside of work to travel back home and visit with family and friends. Joey's hobbies include cleaning (yes, cleaning), reading, exploring the unknown, and shopping.

